DIRECT TRADE WITH NEW YORK.
The ravages committed upon American commerce by the various Confederate privateers now cruising upon the Atlantic is beginning seriously to affect our neighbors of San Francisco; so much so indeed as to be productive of something like a stoppage of their regular supplies from the eastern markets. The Mercantile Gazette and Prices Current of the 22d ult., says in its market review: "The destruction by privateers of another clipper ship, the Crown Point, bound to this port with a full cargo, has had some influence on the market. This is the third depredation of the kind upon our commerce which we have had to notice within the lapse of a month, and the repetition so frequent has at length roused attention to the probable effect upon our future supplies. Already, as regards some articles, very seriously curtailed by the captures reported."
* * * Our prospective supply could hardly be deemed excessive should they all come to hand, but with the probability of such inroads as we have been compelled to chronicle within the last thirty days, a deficiency of some magnitude is not unlikely to occur unless arrivals through other channels flow in more freely. That the danger of capture is considered very great by parties best informed is evident from the fact that underwriters have again advanced the war risk, which now ranges at 15 to 40 per cent, as advertised by recent telegrams, showing very clearly that confidence in the efforts of our Government for the protection of our commerce is well nigh abandoned." High as the rates of insurance have announced evidently are, telegrams three days later announced still another advance of ten per cent, making the rates around the Cape to San Francisco twenty-five per cent. This the Californian merchants seem to consider they cannot afford to pay. Accordingly, the possibility of being obliged to ship from the Atlantic of the United States to San Francisco in foreign bottoms, by way of a British port, is beginning to be discussed by the merchants and journals of the Bay City. It is now stated there, according to the Bulletin, that goods and merchandise can be shipped from New York to Liverpool, and thence to San Francisco in English bottoms upon more favorable terms than they can be imported direct. This is mainly owing to the high rates of insurance charged not only for war, but for marine risks. Now if it will pay to ship from New York via Liverpool to San Francisco, surely it will pay to ship from New York, Boston, or Philadelphia by way of Victoria. The trade in the shape of maritime movement from New York to San Francisco up to the first of June amounted to forty-six ships, representing 49,984 tons, all of course in American bottoms. Some thirty of these vessels are, if not captured, now on their way. Five privateer steamers, the Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Taney, and Virginia, and one sailing vessel, the Lafitte, are known to be cruising in the track of vessels to and from Atlantic ports, and the probability is that the Pacific will not be quite unvisited. The Federal cruisers, as is long evident by this time, are unable to prevent these ravages. All the shipping to San Francisco from eastern ports above mentioned are in danger of capture from those privateers. The operations of the Alabama and Florida off the Brazilian coast recently, seem to have been no less successful than those committed in the neighborhood of the West Indies. By the last accounts published concerning these vessels, it seems that they had captured and destroyed no less than eight American vessels in April last, with cargoes worth over $600,000. Under these circumstances it is evident that with the present high rates of insurance the Californians must make use of foreign bottoms to keep up their trade with the east. As there is not much probability of the American Government changing their navigation laws so as to allow foreign vessels to come in and do the coasting trade, the alternative of shipping their goods by way of a foreign port as spoken of by San Francisco merchants seems to be the only way of escaping the difficulties now besetting their trade. They must have the goods; they must be assured of their regular arrival, and at a reasonable rate of charges. This cannot happen so long as any privateers are suffered to prey upon American shipping. This, however, there seems no great probability of abating during the present war; so that direct importation into San Francisco must be abandoned, simply because it won't pay. It will be far cheaper for San Francisco merchants to have their goods shipped to the free port of Victoria in British or other foreign bottoms, and re-shipped to San Francisco in the same way, if necessary. By establishing branch houses in Victoria, they could serve the double purpose of obtaining the control of the California trade and supplying the market of these Colonies and neighborhood. Of course it would benefit us, as we would get our goods cheaper; and it must come to this if matters continue much longer as they are now.

We might almost hail the Bremen bark Maria now on the way from New York to this port as a forerunner of the trade. If Californians do not take the initiative they may be sure that the others will; British enterprise will not be long in finding so favorable an opening as this presents for doing a large and profitable trade. Our Chamber of Commerce would do well to think to look into the matter and see if a commencement in direct shipment from New York and Boston cannot be made even now, with a view of supplying San Francisco markets.

POLITICAL DODGE.
The admirers of Mr. Attorney General Cary intend to play a clever game if possible, by nominating him at the last hour for the city. By keeping dark up to that moment they imagine that they can return him. This is an admirable electioneering dodge. We are bringing him out. It will make the election all the merrier. What with Mr. Colonial Secretary Young we would have two first class Government candidates in the field, to test the popularity of the Government. If the Government don't believe in its popularity, it will secure an abundance of evidence upon the subject by running these two gentlemen. From all we can learn the electors are anxious to see them in the field, if only to show them how the popular party can elect their men to the Assembly, and elect their opponents to stay at home.

AUCTION SALES TO-DAY.

J. A. McCREE will sell at 11 a.m. at the residence of Mr. D. Schless, corner of Blanchard and Cornmarket streets, a large and comfortable Parlor, Dining Room, Bed Room and Kitchen Furniture.

CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, July 6th, 1863.

Present—His Worship the Mayor and a full board.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Council held a special meeting at 7 p.m. to consider the vote of $250 per month to the Fire Department.

Mr. Hicks proposed and Mr. Copland seconded the confirmation of the vote made June 22nd, appropriating the sum of $250 per month for the use of the Fire Department until three months after the meeting of the House of Assembly.

Councillor Lewis rose and requested the leniency of the Council while he entered into an explanation of his conduct in leaving the Council at their last meeting.

Mr. Lewis gave his explanation and referring to the comments made by His Worship said he considered it improper to make the Chamber a platform for abuse and statements of a derogatory nature towards a councillor who had been elected.

His Worship asked Mr. Lewis to explain what he meant by platform abuse.

Mr. Copland rose to order.

The Mayor requested Mr. Copland to be seated as he had asked Mr. Lewis a question.

Mr. Lewis read the report of the proceedings given in the Chronicle and argued that if that report be correct he had a right to come to that conclusion.

His Worship made a few remarks on the subject and was followed by Mr. Hicks and Mr. Copland, when the subject dropped.

The regular business of the Council was then opened.

Communication from residents asking the Council to open the west end of Cornmarket street, that they might pass with their merchandise to and from Government street, the improvement going on there having made that intersection impassable.

Mr. Copland was pleased this petition had been handed in, and moved that it be referred to the Committee on Streets, and receive their attention.

Mr. Seabury had noticed the grievance. The same existed at the intersection of Hastings street. He was in favor of the committee having power to close the streets, caused by the grading and improvement of any other interesting street.

It was agreed, upon motion of Mr. Stomach, that the committee appointed to attend to the repairs on Fort and Hastings streets, be directed to attend to all repairs on streets, and that the petition from residents on Cornmarket street be referred to such committee.

Leave was granted to Messrs. Mannion & McGowan to occupy the sidewalk where they are about to build.

From Messrs. Thorne & Glavin, stating that as the matter alluded to in their communication received at last meeting had been disposed of, they wished to withdraw the same.

Placed on file.

STREET BOUNDARIES.

The communication from Messrs. Patrick & Co. and others, requesting the Council to define the line of the streets, which stood over from last meeting was again brought up.

Mr. Copland rose to speak on the subject, and after referring to an observation made in a contemporary some time ago in reference to the boundary line of Government street, was proceeding to read a copy of a letter which had been written in consequence of the same, when he was stopped by His Worship, who requested that he would confine his remarks to the business before the meeting, and not refer back to reports in the papers, with which the Council could have nothing to do.

A warm altercation then ensued; Mr. Copland asserting his right to speak without having his words measured by the Chair.

His Worship said he did not wish to interrupt any speaker, but the time of the Council was too much taken up by travelling out of the proper bounds of a discussion, and he certainly would always stop any Councillor when he did not confine himself to the business.

On motion of Mr. Stomach Mr. Copland proceeded.

He drew attention to the fact that the City Surveyor had stated the proper lines of the streets could not be defined without occupying the time of the Council, which would occupy some months and cost nearly $2,000. When to his surprise he had discovered that Golden's owner and other owners on Government street had been fixed by the Surveyor General, and the line of the street could consequently be ascertained without difficulty.

Mr. Hicks spoke on the subject; he thought the Council should adopt the lines defined by the Government without going to the expense of a general survey which might bring them back to the same position.

Mr. Seabury called attention to a statement of the City Surveyor that Mr. Matthews had built on the Surveyor General's line which was wrong; he therefore thought it was inexpedient to occupy the Council's time without ascertaining whether the City Surveyor's assertion could be borne out or not.

Mr. Lewis was in favor of referring the matter to a committee of surveyors.

Mr. Copland gave notice that he would introduce a By-Law to regulate the boundaries of Government and Broad streets.

His Worship instructed the Clerk to inform the Petitioners that they might adopt the Government line, which would be recognized by the Council.

CONTRACT WORK.

The City Surveyor certified that Aaron Neely was entitled to a sum of $750 on contract work executed on Government street, to the amount of $1,000, and $35 for a wooden culvert.

Messrs. Hicks and Bowden to a sum of $185.25 for Wharf street contract, and $450 out of $600 for Broad street contract.

Agreed that same be referred to Committee and if correct, paid.

OBSTRUCTION ON JOHNSON STREET.

Mr. Copland brought forward the following resolution:

I. That the obstructions to the public highway at the corner of Johnson street next the water, are a nuisance.

II. That the owners or occupiers of the said obstructions, buildings and others, are liable under the 9th section of the Ordinance on nuisances to presentment at the hands of the Council.

III. That the owners or occupiers of the said obstructions be warned that unless the same are removed within one week a summons will be issued for their appearance before the Council, and which you have kindly forwarded to the Mayor or any justice of the peace for violation of the said section of the Ordinance on Nuisances.

Messrs. Copland, Reid, Stomach and Hicks, entered fully into the subject matter of the resolution condemning the obstruction referred to, which Mr. Copland stated was upon the property of Mr. Donald Fraser, as a nuisance.

Mr. Seabury thought that it would be sufficient to carry the first clause of the resolution agreeing simply to the nuisance.

Mr. Copland consented to withdraw the last two clauses, and the resolution was then adopted as amended.

His Worship said he entertained no doubt that the property in question was vested in the corporation.

GOVERNMENT STREET LOTS.

Mr. Copland moved that a communication be respectfully addressed to the Colonial Secretary, requesting that the Government do not renew the lease of the three lots on Government street, now, about or expired, to Messrs. Franklin or any other person. Carried.

JAMES' HAY.

Mr. Hicks moved that the street in front of the Governor's property on James' Bay, be surveyed for the purpose of improvement.

Mr. Seabury considered that it would be highly unpolicy to meddle with outside property while such streets as Langley street and others in the town required the attention of the Council. It was their desire to spend the public money where it was most needed.

It was also doubtful whether it was a public street or not. It might be closed at the option of the owner of the adjoining property, and it was their desire to be not at rest. He repudiated such a mode of taking possession.

Capt. Reid was of opinion that it was private property, and was only reserved as a public street.

Mr. Seabury moved as an amendment that a communication be sent to the Colonial Secretary, requesting to know whether the thoroughfare lying in front and along the Governor's property on James' Bay is a public thoroughfare or not.

Mr. Stomach supported the amendment.

Mr. Copland hoped that councillors would not be actuated by motives of false delicacy. It was a public thoroughfare, and it was their duty to regard its expediency in the same light as they would the poorest man on the island.

Mr. Hicks agreed with Mr. Copland.

Amendment carried.

EARLY CLOSING.

It was agreed, upon motion of Mr. Copland, that the City Offices be closed at 2 p.m., on Saturdays.

Council adjourned to Monday next, at 7:30 p.m.

A LICENSE QUESTION.—Mr. Bailey of the Colonial Hotel, who had been summoned for selling malt liquors without a license, again appeared before Mr. Pemberton yesterday.

Mr. Dennes defended, and contended that Mr. Driard, who is the owner of the entire premises, having taken out a hotel license, was entitled to have a bar in the hotel and another in the restaurant. Defendant was only a paid servant of the proprietor.

Mr. Dennes handed in Mr. Driard's license, and also a copy of the bill of fare used in the restaurant, headed Colonial Hotel and Restaurant, and proved that he was the owner of the hotel and restaurant, and had engaged Mr. Bailey to superintend the former department. It was one establishment. Mr. Bailey was a paid servant, but received a percentage on the receipts. The magistrate said he would take time to consider his judgment.

POLITICAL GOSPEL.—The political cauldron has commenced to fizz and boil. Canvassing is going forward, and the names of candidates are circulated round for this city.

We have named—Mr. Colonial Secretary Young, Mr. Attorney General Cary, Mr. Selim Franklin, Mr. J. Yates, Mr. G. Fardon, Mr. J. J. Southgate, Mr. A. C. Ridge, Mr. J. T. Hildes, Mr. H. Dickson, Mr. F. V. Vintura, Mr. J. Trimble, Dr. John, Mr. Jackson, Mr. J. Elliott, Mr. For Luke District—Mr. J. Duffan and Mr. H. Varices.

For Sanich—Mr. Street, who resides in North Sanich, Mr. For Equival and Melchior, Mr. Hildes, Mr. J. R. Burnside, Mr. For Equival Town—Col. Foster and Mr. Coker, For Nanaimo—C. B. Young and Mr. D. B. King. For Sooke and Salt Spring Island Districts, we have heard several gentlemen named as possible candidates.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATIONS.—We learn that the celebration of the Fourth of July at Seattle passed off with great eclat. It was a grand and brilliant affair. A serious accident occurred at Port Ludlow, occasioned by the premature discharge of a cannon while firing a salute. Two men named John Moxley and James Nelson, who were standing near the cannon, were removed on the same day to Port Townsend for medical aid, and on Sunday night Moxley died. Nelson was lying in a very critical state.

THE SECRET.—It is not for leader of the of the Assembly that certain people have brought the name of Mr. Colonial Secretary Young, before the electors as a candidate.

The real reason, it is gravely asserted, is to prove to the home authorities by his election, that the political affairs of the Colony have been managed well—and that the people have been and are contented. Capital way to draw the wool over the eyes of the Downing street authorities!

STEALING CLOTHES.—The colored man named John Henry, charged with stealing sundry articles of clothing from Solomon Stephens, appeared again yesterday before Mr. Pemberton. Mr. Bishop defended the prisoner, and stated that he thought he could produce witnesses to establish the prisoner's innocence. The magistrate accordingly remanded the prisoner until this morning, at ten o'clock.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.—There was a large array in the Police Court yesterday of Prisoners, who had whistled too freely at the Shrine of Bacchus. The Exchequer must have been considerably enriched by the contributions of ten his levied upon each of the delinquents.

THE TALK UNFOURD.—The Magistrate's Court was occupied for some time yesterday in investigating the charge against Elijah Kemp a marine, and a seaman named John Bassett, for cutting off a Chinaman's tail and robbing him of $25. Mr. Bishop prosecuted. The prisoners were remanded.

SHIPMENT OF TREASURES.—The following amounts were shipped yesterday by the Brother Jonathan to San Francisco: Messrs Wells, Fargo & Co., $28,859.43; Bank of British North America, $19,751.89; Bank of British Columbia, $12,891.33. Total, $72,502.15.

THE EMBARGO.—Measures have been taken by our friends on the Sound to have the Embargo laid by Uncle Sam on our supplies of beef removed.

THE MURDER AT PORT DISCOVERY.—The murderer of Pan Tucker had not been discovered, but every exertion was being used to trace the perpetrator of the barbarous deed.

FROM THE SOUND.—The steamer Eliza Anderson arrived last night from the Sound with about twenty passengers. She brought no later news.

FOR LATEST CANADIAN NEWS see our correspondent's letter on first page.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The Brother Jonathan left about 1 p.m. yesterday, for San Francisco direct.

THE SMOKE.—The Smyrna mail describes a severe earthquake which occurred in the Island of Rhodes on the night of 22nd April. Nearly all the buildings in the town were damaged and many overturned, while about fifteen villages were almost entirely reduced to ruins. More than a hundred persons are supposed to have perished. A correspondent of the Times in making an appeal for contributions in aid of the sufferers, says: "The Turkish habitations were in ruins. Thousands of Christians, Mussulmans, and Jews, must have been killed, injured, or left without a home, and a more ghastly picture of desolation and ruin scarcely be so imagined."

The Pope would return to Rome on the 20th May.

Reply to the Rev. L. J. D'Hermont.

INDIAN MISSION, VICTORIA, July 1, 1863.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST.—Sir: In your issue of yesterday there is a letter from the Rev. L. J. D'Hermont, containing many strong and strange statements relative to the Indian trials. In the course of his letter he admits that he was not present, and therefore he urges upon the Government and the public as "facts" the hearsay statements of the friends of the condemned.

Let us examine those facts. The reverend gentleman begins his defence by stating that two of his clients were "murderers." It was doubtful whether they should be justly dealt with, because it was acknowledged by all that they were stained with human blood! Strange line of advocacy! The court, however, was kinder than their reverend defender, for it took no notice whatever of the past crimes referred to by your correspondent. Your correspondent writes: "The young man, the principal witness in the trial had his father killed by a Lamahsa!" again, (they) (the Indians) say that the interpreter (Gabriel) interpreted the very contrary to that which the accused and witnesses deposed." Now, sir, having been Chinese interpreter in those trials, I am likely to be better acquainted with the facts than your correspondent. The young man (Gabriel), whose father had been killed by one of the accused, was not used in any way in the Supreme Court. He was neither interpreter nor witness. Nor was any charge made against the prisoners in which he was in any way interested. This is a fact, and it is not to be denied. The records of the court, and therefore is not mere Indian rumor like your correspondent's rash statement.

On Tuesday last I had a meeting of some thirty or forty Indians in my school, who among them were Koltanaght the wife of Un-when-uk the murderer of Marks' daughter. One of the silly stories were then told to me by those who were interested in the accused, I brought Koltanaght and her daughter into the assembly and said in native Indian, "did I ask you in the court, did you see Un-when-uk stab the girl?" She replied "yes." Did you say "yes" I saw him do it? She replied "yes" it is true that I saw him do it, but I did not say "yes" it is of little consequence then said I, what any body may have said, you saw the deed committed that hangs the man! From that hour to the present no Indian has said one word to me in favor of Un-when-uk.

This sir is sufficient to show you how well the Indians know that all which either the witnesses or accused said was fairly translated; and how quickly they understand under the ground, when they see that the person by whom they speak is master of the facts and circumstances of the case.

To impose, sir, the impartially and so the justice of the Supreme Court of this Colony, is a grave matter for a foreigner to attempt. He is sure to be the effect likely to be produced upon the native mind, when such open contempt of the Judiciary of this land gets spread abroad among the wild tribes of the continent. At least before such a course is adopted by an alien, the crown and public have a right to expect that he will take the trouble to make himself acquainted with the facts, not as the savages, laboring to achieve the rescue of their friends, represent them, but as they are inscribed upon the records of the court.

The lackless "native of the Sanguine tribe," who used such violent language on leaving the court, was himself interpreter in the case of the late charged with firing on the Indians. He was deeply interested in the case of these men, and when he saw the case going against them, he refused to act; and another Indian, a friend of your correspondent, was called and completed the case.

The violent language quoted from report by your correspondent was uttered in my hearing. I immediately reproved the Indian and showed him the injustice of his remarks. I met the same man an hour after, when his temper was cooled. He expressed his regret at what he had said, and acknowledged he was wrong, pleading in extenuation his great grief at the condemnation of his friends. He will not, however, thank your correspondent for publishing his folly. I will say nothing, sir, as to the wisdom of siding with an angry savage in opposition to the laws of this British Colony.

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ALEX. C. GARRETT.

English Caucus Meetings.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST.—Sir: In answer to some remarks you made in your paper of Wednesday last, respecting the day of the elections of this city, in the forthcoming elections, the following paragraph appears in the Evening Express of July 2d:

"That there are no such terms as caucus meeting, platform, or convention in the history of English politics, nor are there even synonymous institutions differently called."

Whether such is the fact now or not, I cannot say; for when I was in England in 1851 and '62 I attended none of the public meetings or conferences in any way what national or local affairs. But this I do know, that about thirty years ago when the great questions of the Roman Catholic Relief Bill, the Parliamentary Reform Bill, the Public Charities Bill, the Corporation Reform Bill, the Abolition of the Stamp Taxes on Newspapers and Almanacs, the Penny Letter Postage Bill, and the Jews Civil Disabilities Bill were agitating the public mind, I was there and took a very active part in support of them, and in so doing there were many "caucuses" called and held, and some of them I attended. As for the word platform, I forget whether it was used or not, without referring to the newspapers of that period, but the resolutions passed at many of the meetings, and the large cities at that time were intended for public use, and were used for the same purpose as the platforms adopted in the United States.

And if there were no "caucus meetings," there would be no public papers called "bole and corner meetings," a great many of which I have been at, and though they were not called "caucus meetings," yet it was only another name for the same kind of a meeting. I have been at "caucus meetings" in the United States, and I could see no difference in the nature of the national politics of the two countries.

AN EXPLANATION.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST.—Sir: Permit us through the medium of your paper, to make one or two remarks bearing upon the petition for the abolition of slavery. Having taken a somewhat active part in getting forward the petition, we deem this due not only to ourselves, but to the majority of those who signed it.

Our sole motive for moving in the matter was to support the prayer of recommendation to mercy, if perchance, the supreme power saw it to be consistent with the interests of public justice that mercy should be extended to these criminals. Several articles having appeared in the public journal, calling in question the equity of the sentence, and also condemning of the Executive for enforcing that sentence, we beg most respectfully to state that with the sentiments and opinions expressed in those articles, we have no sympathy whatever. On the contrary, we feel it to be (now that the sentence has been carried into effect) our place to rest assured that the prerogative of mercy could not be exercised consistently with public safety.

It is, however, a question, and an issue is to manifest rather a rebellious than a loyal spirit. Yours, etc.

W. B. SMITH DANIEL LINDSAY.
